About Summit Geoengineering Services, Inc. (SGS)

Summit Geoengineering Services (SGS) is a Maine based consulting firm founded on providing our clients with responsive and professional geotechnical consulting including subsurface exploration services with SGS drill rigs and a comprehensive in-house soil testing laboratory. Projects range from residential and commercial buildings to shoreline stabilization design to ground improvement projects. Using our "hands on" approach, our engineers sample and test the soil and rock before they perform the design work, managing the project from start to finish for our clients. This all-inclusive approach ensures our engineers obtain detailed project knowledge, permits straightforward communication, and demonstrates our commitment to making our clients' project our top priority.
